If you suffered a serious illness today and had to take a long-term leave, would your business survive without you?

The EHSP is a tax efficient way to jointly purchase a critical illness insurance contract with your company. A tax-free lump sum benefit is paid upon the first of these three events:

In the event you suffer an illness, your company receives the full sum insured.

In the event you have an untimely death, your company receives of 100% of the premiums paid or 25% of the sum insured (whichever is highest).

If you remain in good health, you receive up to 100% of the premiums paid.
